

ABA: 69671720

S0

This is a grayscale astronomical image of a galaxy, likely a spiral galaxy, viewed at an angle. The galaxy has a bright, concentrated central region (nucleus) and several distinct, bright spots or clumps of light scattered throughout its structure. The overall shape is somewhat irregular and elongated. The image is presented in a square format with a black background.