

ABA: 73497786

SC

An axial brain scan image showing two small, bright blue spots of activation. The spots are located in the medial frontal region, one on the left side of the image and one on the right side. The rest of the brain scan is dark, indicating no significant activation. The image is divided into four quadrants by a vertical and a horizontal white line.