

ABA:74641314

CA1

An axial brain scan image showing blue activation patterns. The image is divided into four quadrants by a vertical and a horizontal white line. The activation is most prominent in the outer cortical regions, with a notable cluster in the lower-left quadrant. The central midline and ventricular areas appear dark, indicating no activation.